NEIGE Premiere Ice Wine HALF (from Apples) 12%abv (Gift box) (los)

The orchard is located in QUEBEC, CANADA, in the Monteregie region. In the fall, very ripe apples are picked and stored at cool temperatures until the end of December. Once winter arrives, the fruit is pressed and the juice obtained is placed outside in the intense January cold. During crystallization, the water separates from the sugars by natural cryoconcentration. After few days of intense cold the initial quantity of juice, is collected by gravity. The extracted must is then placed in stainless steel tanks where it ferments at least six months at low temperatures before being bottled. Serve cold.

Made from 80% McIntosh (apple known for its sweet and acidic taste) and 20% Spartan (very sweet apple with a slight pear flavour). Golden yellow in colour the aroma is of freshly picked apple with striking intensity. Perfect as an aperitif or to accompany sharp cheese (cheddar or goat), veined cheese (blue) or desserts.

CHATEAU COUTET 1er Cru Classe Barsac 2009 HALF

Neal Martin Vinous - 92 points - "The 2009 Coutet feels a little simple on the nose compared to its peers, plenty of tropical fruit here such as mango and passion fruit but I would like more terroir expression. The palate is well balanced with an unctuous texture with fine acidity. This is not dissimilar to the 2009 Doisy-Daëne whereby there is much more quality in the mouth than on the nose, finishing with a detailed, stem ginger and pineapple tinged finish that is very appealing. I suspect this will improve in bottle. Drink 2020 - 2045.

MADEIRA BARBEITO Malvasia Reserva 5 Year HALF LITRE 18%abv

We are excited to be able to offer a number of rare Madeiras from Vinhos Barbeito. Ricardo de Freitas is the third generation of his family to run the small company of Vinhos Barbeito and he has been picking up awards by the handful for his work. Barbeito make canteiro wines, which undergo natural cask maturation, with the heat and air used for maturation coming from natural conditions, as opposed to the artificial method of maturation known as estufagem. Their philosophy is to offer 100% canteiro wines, with no added caramel or deacidification. This Malvasia is super-fresh, without any cloying notes, but with a generosity on the palate.

FERREIRA Dona Antonia 10-Year-Old White Port NV HALF - VEG/SUS

Ferreira is the oldest Portuguese Port house and was under the leadership of Dona Antónia Adelaide Ferreira, one of the formidable widows of the world of wine, that the company became the force it is today. Luís Sottomayor is at the winemaking helm and uses grapes from prime Douro vineyard sites and Ferreira's flagship 'Quinta do Porto' to produce Ports characterised by an exuberant ripeness, exceptional concentration, weight and structure, yet wonderful balance.

This White Port is a carefully crafted blend of wines between 8 to 15 years of age. Amber in colour with intense aromas of dried citrus peel, nuts, caramel and baking spices on the nose. On the palate, it perfectly marries oomph and elegance, with a linear acidity balancing the sweetness and carrying the intense and evolved flavours onto the lingering finish.

The Port is made each year in the traditional manner, trodden in granite lagares from grapes grown at Quinta de la Rosa and or many years, before 1988, when they started selling port under the La Rosa brand, the Bergqvist family used to go down to 'Tonel 12' (a large 25 pipe barrel kept in the lodge under the house) and fill their decanter full of delicious ten year old tawny direct from the barrel. THE WINE ADVOCATE Rating: 94 points - Drink Date: 2008 - 2040.

"One of the finest Warres I have ever tasted, this opaque purple-colored wine is made in a drier style (a la Dow), yet it is expressive, extremely full-bodied, with superb richness, purity, and well-integrated alcohol and tannin. It possesses a great mid-palate as well as impressive length. Tasters should take note of the wealth of peppery, licorice-scented and flavored raspberry and blackcurrant fruit. Look for it to be ready to drink in 10-12 years, and keep for 30+. This is a profound example of Warre vintage port."

XIMENEZ-SPINOLA 1964 Pedro Ximenez Old Harvest Solera (Medium) HALF 50cl

XS uniquely only make Sherry from PX, and this is a blend of dry oxidatively aged wine from a solera laid down in 1964, and resembling an oloroso, with sweet wine from a solera laid down in 1918 whose wine's average age is 25 years. Light amber/old gold through gold to a trace of green at the rim, legs. Aromatic, different, charming. A honeyed sweetness with lots of dried fruit - raisin, obviously, but amazingly fresh, nothing like the big black sweet PX wines, some quince jelly, trace oxidative notes and wood, cinnamon, fragrant, quite different to normal (palomino) Sherry, and most attractive. Medium-dry, decent tangy acidity balances the sweetness, so doesn't cloy, that quincey-raisin flavour predominates with slight notes of gingerbread, broader, fatter in style to the palomino wines, with perhaps a little more texture, lovely and clean with a very long finish.

UNICO ZELO Orange Wine, Esoterico 2020/21 Bottle VGN

An eclectic blend of Muscat d'Alessandria, Riesling and Bianco d'Alessano left on their skins for eight days, giving a delicious cloudy orange wine. It has a textured, waxy mouthfeel of ginger, orange and citrus, and ripe tannins. One for the adventurous.

Winemaker's Notes: "It's not exactly white wine, nor red - many call it Orange or Amber wine...but we like to call it Esoterico. We make no additions of any kind - save for sulphur when we bottle the wine. There is no fining or filtration involved, with the wine allowed to clarify by gravity alone - resulting in a slight haze and sediment. This was one of the most enjoyable wines to craft, as there was no preconceived idea of what it must taste like - the chief driver was drinkability."

The Querciabella Camartina 2016, one of the original Super Tuscans from arguably the best vintage for the region in decades. With 95+ from Antonio Galloni, this is potentially the best release ever for this wine. Camartina is a Cabernet/Sangiovese blend from some of the highest vineyards in Chianti, and produced in a more elegant, terroir-focused style than other Super Tuscans: the Burgundy to Bolgheri's Bordeaux. First released in 1982, the year before Ornellaia, it has managed to keep a relatively low profile over the years, which means it offers absolutely astonishing value. This is partially due to the tiny production: it is only made in the best years, and only around 1,500 cases are bottled – for context, this is less than 10% of the production of Ornellaia and 3% of Tignanello. Given that it is only being released now, after two more years' bottle age than most 2016 Super Tuscans, the pricetag is even more extraordinary.

SERODES & KOVAC Chardonnay Limoux Vallee des Aigles 2019/20 Bottle ORG

From a 30-hectare plot of vines planted in the 1970s at 440 MASL, these Chardonnay vines are amongst the oldest in the whole of the Languedoc and this wine is – all things considered – the best Chardonnay we have ever tasted from this exciting region, one that is all-too-often overlooked when it comes to premium wines. The soils are typical Aude Valley clay and limestone, and the area has a remarkable thermal amplitude with its proximity to the mountains. The grapes burst under their own weight in small stainless steel vats and the settled free-run juice is transferred to French oak barrels (10% new) for fermentation, where it remains for 6 months after harvest undergoing extensive lees stirring.

This is a brilliant Chardonnay crafted in a style that might make you think of Bourgogne wines that fetch a far greater price, especially these days. The oak is beautifully judged, and the fruit is sublime.

LEDDA Vermentino di Gallura, Solianu 2017/20 Bottle

Pale lemon-gold. Classic waxed-lemon rind and lemon thyme emerges on swirling. Lots of dried, resinous herbs build. Brisk acidity gives life to the rich lemon and stony palate. A little bitter and not so long, but characterful. Warming finish. Tim Jackson MW "This is showing the features I associate with fashionable Vermentino, of a ripe lemon character that for me is reminiscent of the zest of a waxed lemon, alongside a clear herbal note – sometimes like lemon thyme, sometimes bay leaf. But this expression, from the variety's heartland Gallura, is also showing an attractive balance between weight and ripeness, and its lift of acidity. This mix of distinctiveness, intensity and refreshment is what makes Vermentino (or Rolle, in southern France) such an exciting variety, whether in Gallura – Sardinia's DOCG for the grape – or in places such as Bolgheri that are also producing very interesting examples. Either way, Solianu certainly merits its DOCG Superiore status. 16/20."

WATERFORD ESTATE Chardonnay Single Vineyard 2018 Bottle/nc

A singular wine produced from a special and unique vineyard on the Waterford Estate property. Vines were planted in 1988 making it one of the oldest Chardonnay vineyards in the country. This Chardonnay vineyard was registered as a single vineyard in 2012, which ensures that the traceability of the wine produced exclusively to the original 5.8-hectare block. Decanters

RIEDEL Medoc Decanter Each (rtc)

This handmade decanter named Medoc is ideal for vintage red wines, young white wines, champagnes and orange wine. The tall, slender shape of the optically crafted decanter makes it easy to handle, and perfect to fit in the fridge door. As Maximilian J. Riedel, the designer of these new decanters explains, the design is in keeping with the modern trend towards casual dining: "Back to basics. Riedel decanters with a double and triple-decanting function have a high level of functionality and are perfect for connoisseurs. Some people, however, may find these decanters too complicated and intricate to handle. With our 'M' decanters, we are taking a step back and offering an alternative that we think reflects today's 'farm to table' zeitgeist perfectly."

RIEDEL Signature Decanter Each (l)

The handmade decanter distinguishes by an elegant and complex design. Designed with the historic RIEDEL lettering in the centre of the carafe, the decanter is created in homage to sixth-generation Josef RIEDEL Senior, also known as the 'Glass King of the Jizera Mountains'. It was under Josef's aegis, when RIEDEL glassworks was based in Bohemia, that the company developed into one of the largest and most successful in Europe at that time. The 'RIEDEL' decanter showcases these product features with one small minor detail – thanks to its slim form, the RIEDEL decanter fits perfectly into any refrigerator door.

RIEDEL Altitude Matters Decanter Each (2344/01) (rtc)

The brilliantly modern Altitude Matters Decanter presents a classic RIEDEL design with a new twist: the profile of the Kaiser Mountains in Tyrol, Austria. This stunning mountain range has been the backdrop of nearly the last decade of history for the Riedel family, only a short drive from the RIEDEL Head Office and handmade factory. Fittingly, this profile sits with a redesign of the Tyrol decanter, which debuted in 2007 to commemorate the family rebuilding their dynasty in Tyrol following WWII. Slightly smaller than the original Tyrol, the eye-catching shape of this decanter makes it ideal for younger wines. Its wide base ensures optimum aeration while the angled lip guarantees an easy pour. It is designed to hold a single bottle of wine and is handmade. Please handwash only.
