MOUNT HORROCKS Riesling 'Cordon Cut' 2014 HALF (los)

2 ~~£20.95~~ £8.00 38 %
Mount Horrocks Wines is run by proprietor/winemaker Stephanie Toole. Stephanie restricts production to approximately 4,500 cases per annum in order to achieve her aims of quality and single vineyard expression. Stephanie describes her wines as 'essentially hand made food wines with an emphasis on structure as well as generous fruit flavours'. All grapes are 100% estate grown from three separate vineyard sites totalling nearly 10 hectares in the Clare Valley. Pale yellow gold. Orange marmalade and fresh vanilla notes lift a most appealing aroma. These carry through to the palate, augmented with lemon curd and mineral-flint tones, a clear, bright sherbet-like tang and incredible length of flavour. It's wonderfully concentrated and sweet but in no way cloying, managing to combine richness with vitality and texture with zing. This vintage is a little more intense, mouth-filling and flavoursome - partially due to the influence of botrytis cinerea mould, a first for Cordon Cut. 5 Star Decanter Award!

CORTE SANT'ALDA Recioto della Valpolicella 2011 HALF LITRE (ORG) (los)

2 ~~£34.95~~ £12.00 34 %
*eRobertParker.com #209 (Oct 2013) Monica Lerner 88 points - Corte Sant'Alda presents a fine 2011 Recioto della Valpolicella with lingering tones of spice, mesquite and saddle leather that mingle with brighter aromas of candied cherry and blackberry syrup. The wine is dense and thick, with high levels of dry extract. It sits heavy on the palate. There's a note of sour astringency that stills needs to settle. Drink 2015-2020.
 Corte Sant'Alda is a flagship estate that makes some of the most opulent and age-worthy wines in Valpolicella. Marinella Camerani and her family farm according to biodynamic principles (they are Demeter-certified), and she likes to remind her visitors that olive and cherry groves are also a big part of the estate identity. Hers is a sustainable azienda agricola ('farming estate'), not just a vineyard, with a 360-degree perspective on all themes related to the land. The distinctive personality of the wines, and the consistent high quality make Corte Sant'Alda an important addition to anyone who collects fine Amarone.*

FONTODI Vin Santo del Chianti Classico 2003 HALF (los)

2 ~~£36.95~~ £12.00 32 %
*Wine Advocate #196 (Aug 2011) Antonio Galloni 88 points
 Drink: 2011 - 2023
 The 2003 Vin Santo Del Chianti Classico is the product of another challenging year. Sweet spices, incense, tobacco, cedar and candied orange peel are some of the notes that emerge from this rich, dark Vin Santo. There is plenty of richness, but not a lot of aromatic complexity, which leaves the wine a bit flat and heavy. Ultimately it's hard to get past the qualities of a scorching hot year that doesn't seem particularly ideal for wines made from dried grapes. Anticipated maturity: 2011-2023.
 Giovanni Manetti describes his 2008s as higher in acidity and lower in alcohol than his 2007s. The spring and early summer were quite damp, which caused quite a bit of shatter and therefore lowered yields considerably. The summer was on the cool side and the harvest began in late September. The 2008s are decidedly mid-weight wines from Fontodi, yet the acidities are excellent and the wines are texturally very fine. I would not at all be surprised to see some of these wines show even better in another 5-10 years. Such is the nature of Sangiovese.*

EMILIO LUSTAU Moscatel 'Emilin' 37.5cl HALF (los)

6 ~~£10.95~~ £4.00 37 %
*The Moscatel Emilin is part of the Solera Familiar range from Lustau. The Moscatel grapes for this wine are grown in a vineyard called Las Cruces in the sandy soil near Chipiona, close to the coast, where Lustau grows only Moscatel and Pedro Ximénez. Like Pedro Ximénez, most of the Moscatel grapes are laid out in the sun to dry. However Lustau chooses to maximize the sugars by picking the grapes as late as possible, thus reducing the need for a long drying period (which holds a risk of rotting). Fermentation is arrested early, in order to keep the natural sugar of the grapes. Moscatel Emilin is around 8 years old on average.
 People always remember Pedro Ximénez when talking about sweet sherry, but Moscatel is often overlooked. It can be just as sweet (this one holds around 200 g/l of sugar) but it is usually a little different, often more fragrant and a tad more refined.*

CHANGYU MOSER XV Cabernet Sauvignon 2008 Bottle (los)

2 ~~£47.95~~ £19.00 40 %
*'One's first impulse to judge this wine simply for its novelty value, but that is to do it a disservice. Empirically, in the context of Chinese red wines, it is outstanding, but how does it stack up internationally? Priced in line with, for example, a relatively serious red Bordeaux, there is plenty of Cabernet character, pure fruit, no earthiness, well-integrated oak and, most importantly ripe tannins and a rewarding concentration. In a blind tasting of its Bordeaux peers, it would not be embarrassed, but neither would it be the best. It may be at the top end of its price bracket, but it's in a field of one at the moment, and gives a fascinating glimpse of a possible future. The first vintage is 2008, 90% Cabernet Sauvignon and 10% Merlot, with 12 months in French oak. Yields are low, the fruit is site selected, there a sorting table (the first in China), classic Bordelais treatment.'

Having previously bought the fruit, the Rions now have bought the vineyard in the lieu-dit of Les Plateaux, where the vines were planted in 1971. This has a beautifully classic Nuits nose, a lovely, plump middle and a beautiful finish. It is both sumptuous and stylish, and has been hugely improved by the Rions' dedicated work in the vineyard. Jasper Morris MW, Berrys' Burgundy Director Patrice and son Maxime Rion are tweaking their techniques a little by reducing new oak and slightly increasing extraction in the pre-fermentation stage. This delicious old vine bottling of Nuits St Georges comes from Les Plateaux vineyard, tucked in behind the town itself. It boasts a fine bright red purple colour, with delicious red fruit and a plum note or two. Very pure and fine.

The grape variety Frappato has been around on the island of Sicily quite a while and it is often blended with Nero d'Avola, today frequently disappearing into Cerasuolo di Vittoria. Sicily's first DOCG wine. TASTING: The colour is like a warm ruby, not especially dense but bright and truly red, without blue or purple tones, even though it is still a young wine. The aromas are charming: fragrant wild strawberries and the merest hint of candied orange peel and light spice, maybe nutmeg or cinnamon. The polished texture is silky but definite, with a fine balance of clear fruit and structure (tannins and acidity) to give it depth and length. It has that lovely sweetness of fruit that you get from the best examples of Pinot Noir (though it doesn't taste like Pinot) and the same apparent lightness and freshness even though it fills the mouth with flavour and scent. It is unoaked, complex and layered, juicy but not simple. Simply delicious. LOW IN SULPHITES.

Like Il Faggio and Cento Cavalli, this wine is made by the Liberty Wines' winemaking team in a privately owned and modern winery in the Salento peninsula. Our brief to the winemakers was simple: we wanted a clean, fresh and vibrant Primitivo that is both modern and typical of the variety. In order to achieve these objectives, the winemakers selected the fruit from the best parcels on the estate, ensuring ripeness but no shrivelling (as this gives raisiny fruit and harsh tannins to the wine). Winemaker Filippo Baccalaro, together with consultant winemaker Rino Santeusano, tell us: Deep ruby red colour with violet reflections, this wine has red berry fruit perfumes with a hint of spice. Full bodied with firm tannins, it's well balanced with lots of ripe fruit flavours. Silver - Sommelier Wine Awards 2014.

Since their first vintage in 2004 the torrent of accolades - including an IWC Gold for their Amarone and high ratings from Jancis Robinson - would suggest that they made the right decision. Now firmly established at the forefront of the new wave of quality modern producers of Soave, Valpolicella and Amarone the wines combine beautiful fruit concentration with fresh, bright acidity that makes a second glass (or bottle) almost impossible to resist. Tasting Note: A limpid, ruby-red wine with glints of purple. Intense, quite complex, it has a fine quality aroma with heady, fruity and floral overtones.

VILLA BELVEDERE Valpolicella Classico Superiore Ripasso 2014 Bottle (los)

54 ~~£12.95~~ £6.00 46% £6.95

Forward and fragrant, with exotic aromas and a sensuous, luscious palate of cherry conserve, vanilla and soft black pepper, intermingled with hints of molasses and woodsmoke. Mouthfilling, broad and dense, with a long, satisfying finish. Savour on its own or drink with a cheese platter or pappardelle and meatballs.

The Ripasso method is a Venetian winemaking speciality whereby juvenile Valpolicella is 're-passed' over the dried grape skins remaining from the Amarone fermentation. The Valpolicella stays in contact with this pomace for a week or two and, because the skins are still warm and rich in sugar, a second alcoholic fermentation occurs. The 'mongrel' wine that results is more structured, richer and closer in style to an Amarone than basic Valpolicella.

A wine with great ageing potential, the 2011 has a perfumed nose of crushed rose petals and sweet strawberries with deeper black currant and morello cherry characters in the background. The palate is rich and layered with gorgeous, dark cherry fruit flavours balanced by smooth, velvety tannins and refreshing acidity. Exotic spices, truffles and a hint of dark chocolate add a further layer of depth and complexity. This very complex wine will be delicious to drink in a few years and will age well for another decade or two. Drink from 2018.

Medium with a hint of amber. Highly complex, scented nose combines red plum, cherry, strawberry, clove, medicinal herbs and a hint of orange zest. Intensely flavored, juicy and tightly wound, with lovely cut and definition to the red fruit and spice flavors. The 2006 Barolo Parafada is another gorgeous wine from Massolino in this important vintage. Here, too, the fruit is incredibly primary but in the Parafada the French oak has added a dimension of explosiveness and volume that is captivating. Hints of spices and flowers hint at the inner sweetness that should develop in bottle. The percentage of French oak (35%) has come way down in this bottling, which gives the fruit a better chance to shine. There is now little doubt that 2010 was the Brunello di Montalcino vintage of a lifetime. Brunello di Montalcino is one of Italy's most famous and exciting wines. The very best Brunellos can sit at the high table in terms of the world's greatest. The 2010 vintage shows Brunello at its very best - these are wines to fill the cellar with.

THE CRITICS WERE UNANIMOUS IN THEIR PRAISE - One of the first to publish was James Suckling who called 2010 Brunello "the greatest modern vintage of Italy's most famous wine region", and "a new benchmark for Tuscany's icon wine". The Wine Advocate's Monica Lerner was similarly enamoured, writing that "This is shaping up to be an iconic vintage" whilst Walter Speller, Italian expert for jancisrobinson.com, writes: "In Montalcino 2010 is truly an excellent vintage."

This is a truly delicious wine that exceeds my expectations. I love the way it takes full command of the slightly bolder and more opulent dark fruit aromas produced in this hot vintage. Black cherry, plum and crème de cassis converge on the bouquet. Grilled herb, forest floor, licorice and exotic spice play supporting roles. The finish offers moderate acidity on the Sangiovese scale. This means the wine is much fresher and more tonic than most Tuscan reds. The finish is long and silky.

Wine Maker Alois Lageder leaves the wine for 48 hours on the skins to give this rose a deep pink colour and plenty of fruit. Almost a light red it has juicy morello cherry and notes with lovely weight to the finish. Producer info: Alois Lageder is one of Italy's foremost winemakers. Based in the mountainous Alto Adige region in the far north of the country, the vines (which were converted to biodynamics in 2004) enjoy a long, sunny growing season with warm days and cool nights that help to preserve both the grapes' natural aromas and acidity. The wines themselves are made simply in a carbon-neutral, solar-powered state-of-the-art winery that moves the wine gently, using gravity wherever possible. The house style is all about freshness, elegance and purity of fruit. These are finely chiseled wines with real definition, but immense charm too. 100% Lagrein grape.

In the not too wide panorama of the Italian rosée wines, the Garda Classico Charetto represent one of the most typical expression of the hinterland of the Garda area. This wine has been always obtained from a cuvée of Barbera, Groppello, Marzemino and Sangiovese grapes, that are vinified with great care, allowing a slight contact of the must with the skins. The Charetto of Cà dei frati, although delicate in its style and particularly suitable to feminine taste, evolves into a wine full of dignity, thanks to a structure which allows it to resist at its best, without yieldings, for at least one year. Served fresh, but not icy, it will surely be a 'discovery' if served with sliced salami, 'risotti' or pasta with mushrooms or vegetables, as well as with the classic fish recipes of the local cuisine (tench with beans, eel with pears, pike- or carp-rissoles with polenta, etc.)

The terroir in the Douro is still largely unexplored and by making wines with balance, harmony and equilibrium from our vineyards, we try to enable the grapes to express themselves in the bottle. Our style is to make well defined wines without too much extraction, tannin or oak and with good freshness and minerality. The 2015 rosé continues in the 'lighter' style to previous years. They allowed much less skin contact to the free run juice so that the rosé is somewhat paler. The resulting wine still has a good structure and attractive red fruit flavours with a touch of wild strawberry. Totally dry in the mouth, the wine has great freshness and pleasing acidity. Serve chilled, as an excellent refreshing aperitif. Given its structure, it is a perfect with food and can easily be drunk when eating summer salads, fish, chicken and other white meats.

SUSANA BALBO Signature White Blend (Sauv / Semillon / Torrontes) 2015 Bottle (los)

We were asked to taste this blind and we did identify the Semillon, and the Sauvignon Blanc, but what was providing that exotic richness on the nose; Riesling? No, Torrontes. 33% of each varietal is separately barrel fermented then blended and rested in those barrels for a further 4 months. The oak is delicate, the fruit is complex and explosive, run through with delicious acidity, steely and nervous, and we suspect this wine will age very well indeed, if it lasts that long. The grapes are from the Uco Valley, naturally.

'A mould-breaking, low alcohol cuvée of Torrontés, Sauvignon Blanc and Semillon, all from the Uco Valley and two thirds fermented in concrete eggs. Grapefruit, gooseberry and struck match notes are complemented by a hint of oak on the Torrontés. One of the country's best whites in year one.' 94/100 Tim Atkin ARGENTINA 2016 Special Report (2015 vintage)

Tales of Crooked Mick have been told around bushfires since the first European's started getting lost in the outback. They tell of a wild, larger than life character that lived in the Spee'Wah - among locations used over time is an area of the country on the border between New South Wales and Victoria, close to the Speewa cable ferry that crosses the Murray River north of Swan Hill, and home to the vines that made these wines.

ANDERT Rulander (Pinot Gris) 2013 Bottle/nv - BO (los)

Pinot Gris is called Rulander in Austria and Germany. We are in the wild biodynamically-farmed vineyards belonging to Michael and Erich Andert. This version takes us to Princ country, possessing an exquisite salmon colour with amber highlights. The nose, or whatever we choose to call it, is (sweet)meaty and a little bit smoky, the palate is smooth and almost velvety with suggestions of pink grapefruit, yet also salty with a bitter almond note on the finish.

All Andert's wines have a faintly medicinal bitter, fennel-inflected after-taste. This may be do with the fact that the vines share their space with wild fennel and many other plants and herbs that have the same anise profile. They also possess what we like to describe as "natural energy". Easy in themselves or with a relaxed intensity, not inviting judgement, but utterly and vitally redolent of the vineyards from which they are born.

GAJA Alteni di Brassica Sauvignon Blanc 2011 Bottle (los)

The Gaja family made history once again when it planted Sauvignon Blanc in the Barbaresco appellation in 1983. Today, the fruit for this mineral-driven expression of Sauvignon Blanc is sourced from the original plantings in Barbaresco and newer vineyards in Serralunga d'Alba (in the Barolo appellation), roughly 75 acres in all. The name is based on two traditionally common elements in the Piedmontese landscape. Alteni are the classic, short white stone walls that were once typically used to cloister the vineyards of Piedmont. Brassica is the name of the beautiful yellow flowers that pepper the vineyards in the springtime. Combined, the name means the little walls of yellow springtime flowers.

Alteni di Brassica combines the classic herbaceous and aromatic qualities of the grape variety with the elegance and refinement of the GAJA style. This wine's impressive acidity gives it remarkable aging potential and while it is generally consumed in its youth, many prefer to cellar it.

GAJA Chardonnay 'Gaia & Rey' 2009 HALF (los)

This may be not only the best Chardonnay in Italy, but the best white wine to come out of the Boot. Gaia & Rey derives from Angelo's first Chardonnay vineyard and is named for his oldest daughter, Gaia Gaja, and his grandmother, Clotilde Rey, a marketing mastermind who taught Angelo the importance of promotional efforts (making Gaja's tribute particularly apropos). Gaia & Rey is fermented with naturally occurring yeasts found on the grape skins and in the winery, endowing the wine with a touch of exoticism. It is a hedonistic wine, delivering lusciously ripe flavors of guava, tangerine, honey, marzipan, and oak spice. Impressively chewy in the mouth, the concentrated, ripe fruit is perfectly balanced by a lively acidity that persists through the long, lingering finish.

This douROSA white wine is mainly blended from Codega do Larinho (44%), Rabigato (27%), Viosinho (26%) and Gouveio (3%) varieties. The grapes come from nearby vineyards with a higher altitude, above the Douro Valley, than Quinta de la Rosa. The vineyards are especially identified by wine maker, Jorge Moreira, for their quality and good acidities.

TASTING NOTES: Expressive white fruit aromas with noticeably minerality. On the palate, plenty of richness and citric fruit flavours, with a lively and very pleasant finish.

SERVING SUGGESTIONS: This white wine is ready for drinking now. Serve chilled as an excellent refreshing aperitif. It is a perfect with food and can easily be drunk with a wide variety of different foods from chicken to seafood and fish. The wine has been very popular and we tend to sell out easily.

DE WETSHOF Unwooded Chardonnay 'Bon Vallon' 2014 HALF (los)

Danie de Wet pioneered the noble white varieties of Europe in South Africa and today the estate of 200 hectares specialises in superior white wines exclusively. Thus, De Wetshof, the first registered wine estate in the Robertson region, made South Africa's first Chardonnay Superior, Sauvignon Blanc and Rhine Riesling Superior. Today Danie specialises in Chardonnay.

In the cellar the wine is tank fermented and then left on its lees (SUR LIE) for a few months. This is a beautifully crafted, elegant wine. It has crisp fresh citrus flavours and a creamy aftertaste with elegant fruit and a long yeasty, nutty finish.

Mixers - Tonic Water

BON VIVANT Tonic Syrup Half Bottle (375ml) (12) - SINGLE

Created based on the original tonic syrup formula, Bon Vivant Tonic Syrup is infused with cinchona bark - the natural source of quinine. Allows you to create handmade, from scratch, tonic water. A base of quinine, culled from the Cinchona Tree, with the addition of delicate lemon flavour and sweetened with real cane sugar. The final product is a complex mixture that introduces a fine bitterness to any cocktail, and a great pairing with the botanicals of the finest gins in the world. In a Gin & Tonic, Bon Vivant Tonic Syrup works particularly well with London Dry gins that have a strong juniper note, however the amount can be adjusted to accommodate different botanical profiles across the gin category. It also works well with different spirits and liqueurs, with recommended serves including Amaro & Tonic, Vermouth & Tonic and Italicus & Tonic. As a cocktail ingredient it can be used in sour classics such as an Aviation or White Lady instead of sugar, and there is the opportunity for bartenders to experiment with their own infusions and serves. G&T Recipe: 60ml Gin, 30ml Tonic Syrup and 90ml of Sparkling Water or Soda Water.
